LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Greetings!

It has been a good year for the Mary Washington College Alumnae Association so far. Your Board, Alumnae Council, Committees, Chapters and Classes all seem to be more active each day. At least 300 individuals are now busily engaged in alumnae affairs. Twelve pages were added to the fall issue of the Alumnae News because you are letting us hear from you.

Your leaders, national and local, are taking the responsibility to their alma mater and their determination to contribute to her future very seriously. You might say it is a year of evaluation. Each seems to be asking, "What more can I do personally? What will update and strengthen our Alumnae Association? What can we do to assure Mary Washington's standing as one of the finest liberal arts colleges in the country now and in the years to come?" And they are diligently seeking the answers! They have found some, and will continue to search for all. I'll give you some examples.

The Alumnae Council is in the process of streamlining its organization to be more effective in assisting chapters. In cooperation with the Admission Office, it is initiating a program to train alumnae all over the United States to interview prospective students. Would you be interested in participating?

Our Summer in Spain

By Edward Alvey, Jr.

A RETROSPECTIVE APPRAISAL

Interest in collegiate study abroad has increased greatly in the last few years. Until 1950, only five or six study-abroad programs were in operation, mainly of the junior-year type such as that operated by Sweet Briar College for students interested in the French language and civilization. However, as overseas travel became less expensive and more widespread, interest in summer study and junior-year programs skyrocketed. During the academic year 1962-63 there were 103 college-sponsored programs. By 1966, there were 208 programs offered by over 100 American colleges and universities in 27 countries.

A study-abroad program for Mary Washington College was first considered in the fall of 1964, but it did not seem feasible to inaugurate a project of this kind at that time. In the fall of 1965, the idea was again discussed, and it was decided to offer a six-week program in Spain, entitled "The Living Literature of Spain."

The primary purpose of the program was to offer a new dimension to the serious academic study of Spanish literature through contact with the living culture of Spain: its people, places, language, architecture, music, and art. A series of lectures, in Spanish, on persons, ideas, and events associated with the places visited formed the basis of the course.

Spain was selected for this initial project because of the current interest in that country and also because of the large number of students eager for an opportunity to use the language and to gain the increased facility that actual contact with the people and culture of the native land affords.

Since the lectures themselves would be in Spanish and since the members of the group were expected to use the language constantly in their day-to-day living, an acceptable level of proficiency was a prerequisite for enrolling. Actually, most of the group were majoring in Spanish and had had at least two years of collegiate study or the equivalent.

Each member of the group observed some particular aspect of Spanish life, such as agriculture, education, architecture, etc., and prepared a term paper, in Spanish, on the topic selected. There was also a comprehensive final examination on the course lectures and other learning experiences, taken by mail under the Honor System after the students had returned to this country. Three semester hours of undergraduate elective credit was allowed for successful completion of the course.

The program was under the general direction of Dr. Josefa Rivas, Assistant Professor of Spanish at Mary Washington College, who served as conductor of the group and was responsible for the series of lectures and other course content. A native of Pontevedra, Spain, Miss Rivas holds the Licenciada en Filosofía y Letras from the University of Santiago and the Ph.D. degree from the University of Valencia. During the session of 1963-64 she was on leave of absence for a year of study in Spain.

The itinerary was planned with the assistance of the World Wide Travel Department of the Automobile Club of Virginia (A. A. A.), and all travel arrangements were made by that organization.

Our first four days were spent in Lisbon, Portugal, a city of nearly one million, old in years but young in outlook. Modern Lisbon is a thriving and busy international seaport, with ships of many nations loading and unloading at its docks. Monuments along the Tagus River recall the glorious days of the sixteenth century when Portuguese navigators opened up new routes for exploration and trade.

In the Jeronimos Monastery, built in 1502 to commemorate the discovery of a sea route to India by Vasco de Gama, the tomb of this brave explorer occupies a conspicuous place. Nearby is the Tower of Belem, built in 1515 as a landmark to guide Portuguese ships returning home from faraway lands.

In the environs of Lisbon are the royal palace at Queluz, where Elizabeth II and other notables have stayed, and the story-book castle at Sintra, called by Byron the most beautiful castle in the world. The elaborate tile decorations in the latter were a reminder of the centuries when the Moors occupied the Iberian Peninsula.

From Lisbon to Santiago de Compostela is a day's journey by train, with alternating vistas of the mountains and of the sea as the little steam engine with its two coaches winds its way upward in the late afternoon sunlight.

Our next two weeks were spent in Santiago de Compostela, where, during the Middle Ages, thousands of pilgrims came to visit the tomb of St. James, whose body is enshrined in the magnificent Romanesque Cathedral begun in the eleventh century. A guided tour of the cathedral takes three hours. Although we visited it many times and attended services there, we never ceased to be impressed by the beauty of its carved stone work, the richness of its altar and furnishings, and the soaring reaches of its central nave.

Our course lectures in Santiago, as in the case of the other places visited, centered about the history, literature, and art of the region. For example, the opening lecture was devoted to the pilgrimages of the Middle Ages which made Santiago a center of religious life and which served to spread the culture of the period. In Santiago today there are 46 churches and 36 monasteries or convents, most of them dating from the tenth to the fifteenth centuries.

To visit, at leisure, many of these ancient buildings was to sense realistically the religious fervor that led to their establishment. The labor of love that had gone into their construction was clearly evident; the rich gifts of silver, gold, and precious stones that had been placed upon the altars spoke eloquently of the desire of rulers and nobles to give to the Church the treasures that they valued most highly.

We felt transported back to the fifteenth century as we walked daily along the narrow, winding streets of the old city, where the ancient stone houses, four or five stories in height, rose above us with impressive dignity.

Through the courtesy of the Rector of Fonseca University, our classes were held in one of the richly-decorated lecture halls that surround the ancient cloister of the university. As we occupied the huge, elaborately-carved chairs that faced each other across an expanse of rich carpeting, with the professor speaking from a canopied dais at one end, I wondered what the sixteenth-century scholars would have thought of the young and eager Mary Washington girls, notebooks in lap, busily taking notes on a lecture in Spanish by a woman professor.

Our program while in Santiago included lectures on the poetry of Rosalia de Castro, whose tomb we visited and whose monument overlooks the new campus of the University of Santiago; on the Celts and their influence upon the region; on the music of the Middle Ages; on the folklore of Galicia; on the influence of the poetry of this region upon the rest of Spain; and on other topics related to this old and strikingly beautiful part of Spain.

Meanwhile, in our daily life we found ourselves speaking Spanish constantly and absorbing the culture and customs of the country. We learned to shop for bargains, to sit at the sidewalk cafes and enjoy the life about us, to know by name the special dishes of the region that we liked best, and to exchange ideas with a friendly and interested people.

During our stay in Santiago we were privileged to be entertained by the vice-rector of the University, who also spoke to the group, and to enjoy many pleasures that the gracious and hospitable inhabitants of Galicia made possible for us. There were side trips to Coruna and Finisterre (end of the land) where the Tower of Hercules looks out on the broad Atlantic; to Viga, a rich and important port; to picturesque Pontevedra; and to the lovely little town of Villagarcia, with its pastel-colored houses arcing about the blue waters of the Ria de Arosa.

Guidebooks describe the region of Galicia as "all scenery," and so we found it. Perhaps the most vivid memory is of a day spent aboard a small chartered board, exploring the shores of the estuary and enjoying the sun on its mountain-rimmed beaches.

For all of us, I am sure, the program in Spain provided first-hand contact with the history of Spain and the glories of its Golden Age. Our trip to Covadonga, the remote mountain shrine known as the cradle of Spanish liberty, left a vivid impression of the long struggle to drive out the Moors, which began with the first victory of the Christians, here in 719, under the leadership of Don Pelayo.

The Moors invaded Spain at Gibraltar in 711 A.D. In two years they had penetrated the northernmost reaches of the country. It took nearly 800 years to drive them out again, with the final victory coming in 1492 with the triumph of the forces of Ferdinand and Isabella at Granada.

Perhaps the most impressive experience, for me at least, was our visit to the caves of Altamira. Here are found the famous wall paintings of wild animals drawn and colored in red, brown, and yellow pigments. The use of perspective is amazing. It was a thrill to realize that we were looking at the earliest known effort of man to beautify his surroundings. Estimates of the age of the paintings range from 20,000 to 30,000 years old.

Seville is another place where the glories of the past seem to live again. This gay and colorful city of Andalusia, with its bullfights, beautiful women, and flamenco dancers, seems to recreate again the life and spirit of the Conquistadores.

Its cathedral, the largest and richest in Spain, was begun in 1401 and completed in 1506. It contains 80 chapels and as many large stained glass windows, some of the finest in existence. Gold from Peru, silver from Mexico, and precious stones from many countries have been used lavishly. The crown of the Virgen is of pure gold encrusted in diamonds.

Here also is the tomb of Columbus, whose body was brought from Santo Domingo when Spain lost the last of her possessions in the New World. In the last three of his four voyages, Columbus sailed from Seville, and much of the treasure brought back subsequently was landed here at the Tower of Gold, on the Guadalquivir River. This tower is connected by a subterranean passageway with the underground vaults of the Alcazar, the royal palace, where the riches were stored until used later to adorn the cathedrals and palaces of Spain.

In Seville also is the Archivo de las Indias, built in the 1600's, which contains over 16,000,000 documents relating to the discovery and development of the New World, beginning with the original letter written by Columbus to Ferdinand and Isabella outlining the proposal for his first voyage.

Further impressions of the history and glory of Spain are gained from visits to Escorial and Segovia. The former is the famous monastery-palace, built by Philip II in 1562, when Spain was at the peak of its power and authority. The vast building contains 2,700 windows, 1,600 doorways, and 86 staircases. Philip II ruled from here, and on his death was buried in a magnificent crypt below the basilica, where all but three of the other monarchs of Spain now lie in handsome marble coffins.

Segovia is famous for the Alcazar, or fortress, built by Alphonso VI in the eleventh century and recently restored. The Roman aqueduct in the city is still in daily use.

It was in Madrid, perhaps, that our group received some of its most vivid impressions. The royal palace there, the largest in Europe, was built by the Bourbon dynasty. It contains 2,880 rooms, with scores of elaborately decorated and furnished reception and audience salons.

The Prado Museum, with its magnificent collections of El Greco, Velazquez, Murillo, and Goya, is one of the greatest art galleries in the world. El Greco's paintings of the Holy Family, the Crucifixion, and the Resurrection are unforgettable. Later, at Toledo, the group visited the house of El Greco and the church that contains so much of his work. Here, again, our lectures on "El Greco y su tiempo" and "Velazquez y el realismo hispanico" added greatly to our enjoyment and appreciation of these experiences.

Space does not permit more than a mention of our visit to Cordoba, which, until its fall to the Christian forces in 1236 A.D. was the center of Moorish power in Spain and whose mosque, begun in the eighth century and 200 years in the building, was the largest in the world.

After a brief stopover at Malaga, on the Mediterranean, our group reached Granada, a fitting climax to our visit to Spain. The Alhambra, with its exquisitely carved arches and ceilings, its colonnades and courtyards, and its tinkling fountains, left us with a feeling of fragile beauty that seemed really to be in another world.

Our program in Spain was like another world in the richness of the experiences it provided, the educational and cultural values it afforded, and lasting impressions of a warm and friendly people it made possible.

The investment in time and money that the program involved is paying rich dividends for all of the participants, not only in their increased knowledge of and facility in the Spanish language but in their lasting appreciation of the history, culture, and contributions of a great nation.

Note: Dr. Edward Alvey, Professor of Education, has been Dean of Mary Washington College since 1934. Last summer he accompanied our first study-abroad group to Spain and Portugal. During the program in Spain Dr. Alvey wrote a series of articles for the Fredericksburg Free Lance-Star, which have been collected and reprinted under the title, "Impressions of Spain and Portugal: 1966." He has arranged to send a copy of the booklet to each chapter of the Alumnae Association. If you would like to read a more complete account of this first study-abroad trip, you may borrow a copy from your chapter president.

ASIAN STUDIES CONFERENCE

Mary Washington College was host on February 3 and 4 to the sixth annual meeting of the Southeast Regional Conference of the Association for Asian Studies. About 125 members from participating colleges and government agencies were invited to attend.

Chairman of the committee on local arrangements was Dr. Kurt F. Leidecker, Professor of Philosophy. Dr. Lewis P. Fickett, speaking on "The Praja Socialist Party in India, 1952-67: A Study in Political Confrontation," participated in the Saturday afternoon session on "China and India: Politics and Confrontation." Professor Karl J. Pelzer of Yale University, President of the Association, delivered the keynote address at a banquet in Seacobeck Hall on Friday.

The public was invited to attend a program of classical gamelon music (a flute, string and percussion orchestra) and dances presented on Friday evening by a group from the Indonesian Embassy in Washington.

Several related displays in E. Lee Trinkle Library and duPont Hall were prepared by members of the Oriental Club and the library staff. A comprehensive bibliography of the library's extensive Asian collection was distributed.

This is the first time the Association has met on the Mary Washington College Campus, but the College has been represented at other meetings of the group.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARDED

Christiana Delores Hall was the recipient of a restricted alumnae scholarship given by Harriette Seely Atkinson '51 to a negro student enrolled in MWC.

Corrections — The report of the marriage of Diane Lovewell on page 20 of the Fall issue of the News was incorrect. Diane writes that she is still enjoying the exciting life of a single girl in the Washington area.

The first memorial gift listed on page 18 of the Fall issue of the Alumnae News should have been in memory of Lina Jennings Bertok '43 instead of Linda J. Bartole '43.

FIVE BARRETT SISTERS AT MARY WASHINGTON

The Barrett family of Fredericksburg, with five girls who have already enrolled in MWC, may surpass the record set by the Lewis and Clark families mentioned in the Fall issue of the News, according to Mr. A. Ray Merchant, Registrar.

Florence Lorainne Barrett (now Mrs. David M. Hall) received a degree in 1961, followed by Mary Ellen in 1962, Margaret Teresa in 1963 and Robert Page (now Mrs. H. E. Crisp) in 1965. Grace Anne, a junior, hopes to be granted her degree in June 1968. A sixth sister, Judy, is now a senior in high school. If she also enters MWC the Barrett girls, in this age of small families, may set an all-time record for sisters attending the College.

CHAPTER NEWS

Reporter: Anne McCaskill Libis '49

Baltimore, Md. 21207

FREDERICKSBURG: On October 29, the Fredericksburg chapter had as its one fund raising project of the year, a hat and style show luncheon at the Princess Anne Inn, replacing the card party benefit held in years past. The fashion show, which was sponsored by local firms, used the theme, "Around the World with Fashions of the Jet Age." The flower arrangements and other decorations in the large dining room carried out this theme. About 80 persons attended.

DELAWARE VALLEY: A mid-winter Open House was held on February 12 at the home of Jeanne Farrington Leslie '49. Money gained from this event will be used for scholarships.

ROANOKE VALLEY: A meeting was held during which a citation was presented to "Bootsie"

Simpson Johnson '54, for her efforts in re-establishing an active alumnae chapter in Roanoke. January—A pot-luck dinner was held at the home of Adele Crowgey Giles '37.

NORFOLK: September—A luncheon was held at which Mary Morris '66 spoke on "Mary Washington College Today." November—A covered dish luncheon was held at the home of Ruth Pope Garrett '30. December—Dinner and dancing were enjoyed at the Commodore Club in Virginia Beach. January—Cameron Keane spoke at luncheon at the Lafayette Club.

BALTIMORE: September—The annual luncheon for students and chapter members was held at "The Tail of the Fox" in Lutherville. Attendance was good and we are thrilled to have 11 new freshmen from our area. October—A few braved a rainy night to meet at the new home of Anne McCaskill Libis '49 for business and an informative speech by a member of the Board of the Baltimore County Family and Children's Service. November—Luncheon was enjoyed at the Baltimore Museum of Art. January—The annual covered dish supper was enjoyed at the home of Ruth Ludtke Scarborough '44.

MIAMI: September—A coffee for students and their mothers was held. December—Annual Christmas party at the home of Leona Hall Howard '49. February—A luncheon, to be held in Fort Lauderdale, is planned. Anyone wishing to attend contact Frances Tillery Kirby '35, 5921 SW 32nd Street, Miami, Fla., 33155.

KING GEORGE: Will be in charge of hostessing the 100th day tea for the College seniors on February 21st.

While Mrs. Sidney Armstrong (Frances Liebenow, '36), Chairman of Arrangements, looks on, Mrs. Wm. Liddle (Betty Sebrell '53) and Mrs. George Schutte model "Fashions of the Jet Age" at a benefit luncheon given by the Fredericksburg Chapter.

DEATHS

It is with regret that we announce the deaths of the following:

'18—Sex Nannie Smith Flagg of Golansville.

'20—Frances Tucker Bryan of Petersburg.

'26—John K. Hodnette, husband of Dorothy Chiles, Cottdonale, Ala., following an automobile accident, summer of 1966.

'29—Julia Troland Link of Washington, D.C., formerly of Fredericksburg, in October.

'37—Fay Luther Nichols of Lynchburg, on April 8.

QUEST XX QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

We have received a number of questions from alumnae interested in our QUEST XX INSURED ENDOWMENT PLAN. The answers are being published below with the hope that they will motivate more participants in this exciting and vastly potential funding method.

THE QUEST XX ENDOWMENT PLAN provides alumnae with a method of giving the necessarily large sums of money the college will need in the near future, without real individual sacrifice. It works this way: For as little as $1 to $3 a month per $1,000 face amount (depending on your age) you insure your life with a QUEST XX policy, naming the Alumnae Association as Beneficiary and Owner of the policy. The cash building in the policy is always available to the Association for use in supporting the work of the College and upon your death the face amount of the policy is paid in cash to the Association as a memorial gift in your name. As you can readily see, several hundred donors giving such gifts can guarantee hundreds of thousands of dollars to the College over the coming years.

A good many alumnae and faculty members have already participated in this program, but we are far short of our goal of 500 participants. If you have not added your name to the list of givers, it may be that you are hesitating because you lack information. If your questions are not fully answered below, please let us hear from you at Spotswood House by letter and we will be happy to give you full details.

Q: How long are premium payments required for a QUEST XX policy?
 A: You have two choices: 1) For life, or 2) For 20 years. The lifetime payments are smaller, of course, than those required for 20 years. (Example: Age 35 lifetime premium for $1,000 is $22.50 annually — 20-payment premium is $27.37 annually). You may, of course, prepay part or all of the 20 years and receive a 3 1/2% compounded discount.

Q: What happens if I am unable to continue premium contributions?

A: By the end of the second year, the policy contains cash values and paid-up insurance values. If premium contributions are stopped, the owner (Alumnae Association) may surrender the policy for its cash, or elect to take a smaller paid-up policy with no further premiums required. The longer the policy is in force, the larger the cash and paid-up insurance values.

Q: May I make my premium contribution on a quarterly or semi-annual basis?

A: Yes, providing the amount of each contribution is $10.00 or more.

Q: May I increase my policy at some future date?

A: Yes, but the premium contribution required at that time will be based on your then attained age.

Q: May I give a policy on the life of a younger person?

A: Yes, this is often done. The premium contribution is then based on the insured's younger age.

Q: May I specify how I wish the future memorial funds to be used?

A: Yes, but it is preferred that the gift be unencumbered so that it may be used at the discretion of the college officials for whatever may be the most pressing need at that time.

Q: May I give a policy larger than $1,000?

A: Several donors have already given policies in amounts of $5,000, $2,500, $2,000 and $1,500.

Q: Are my premium contributions fully deductible for tax purposes?

A: Yes, for Federal Income Tax.

Q: How do I participate?

A: Write the Alumnae Association and advise us of your interest. We will mail you full details and an application. Your completed application and your check for the first premium contribution (made out to: Women's Life Insurance Company of America, Inc.) should then be submitted in the reply envelope we will also provide.

NOW, WE HAVE SOME QUESTIONS

Q: Do you know that your College is not subsidized by the State of Virginia, but only assisted by the State?

Q: Do you know how your Alumnae compare in giving with those of other womens' colleges?

College	Number of Alumnae solicited	Total Alumnae gifts 1964-1965
Sweet Briar	7,299	$231,768
Randolph-Macon	11,076	71,636
Mary Baldwin	5,864	28,275
Hollins	4,500	19,822
Westhampton	3,647	15,531
Mary Washington	7,487	11,889

Q: Do you know a better way than the QUEST XX Program to provide the large amounts of money our college will NEED over the next twenty or thirty years?

Q: Will you help the College by participating in the QUEST XX Program?
 THAT'S THE $500,000 QUESTION!

The MWC Graduate Now

WHAT IS SHE DOING WHAT IS SHE THINKING

Hoping to gather some answers to these questions, the Alumnae Association has composed the brief quiz below. It ranges across a variety of areas, some of them intentionally "personal." For this reason — and because we are interested only in the composite picture of Mary Washington graduates — we ask you NOT to sign your name when you send in your answers. Do think the questions through carefully and respond honestly, writing your answers in the spaces on the postcard beside the number corresponding to the question. Then tear off the card and return it to the Alumnae Association office before April 20. The results should make very interesting reading in a future issue of the Alumnae News. Your additional comments are encouraged (see No. 26).

1. How long ago did you attend MWC?
2. Are you married?
3. Is your husband a college man?
4. How many children do you have?
5. If you did not graduate from MWC, did you ever earn your college degree?
6. Have you pursued formal education after MWC? (a.) Full or part time? (b) Did you earn an advanced degree? What? (c).
7. Why did you go back to school — teaching requirement, career purposes, for fun, other?
8. How well did your college education prepare you for your role as wife and mother: well, adequately, inadequately?
9. Do you now wish you had taken more subjects related to homemaking, such as home economics, child psychology, etc.?
10. If you were just starting college now would you choose the same major?
11. Have you been employed since your marriage? (a) Full or part time? (b) Are you working now? (c) Full or part time (d).
12. Is/was your work related to your undergraduate major?
13. Do you believe a woman with children should work? (a). After her children are how old? (b).
14. If you work, is it due to necessity (a), boredom at home (b), other (c)?
15. If you work, do you feel guilty of neglecting your family and home duties? (a). Do you honestly think you are better off in more than just financial ways? (b).
16. If you work, does your husband object or does he encourage you? (a). Does he willingly assume a share of the household chores? (b).
17. Estimate the number of times you were absent or late to work during the past year because of sick children or other family/household responsibilities.
18. Do you intend to pick up your career after your children are grown?
19. At social gatherings do you spend most of your conversation on babies, recipes and gossip? (a). Do you seek out a discussion of politics, world affairs, the arts, etc.? (b).
20. Do you take an active part in any intellectually oriented community organizations, such as Great Books discussion groups, art seminars, lecture series, etc.?
21. Are you a volunteer worker for a charitable institution (a). the PTA (b), local politics (c), your church (d), other (e)?
22. What do you read regularly: daily newspaper (a), news magazine (b), women's magazine (c), current best-sellers (d), classics (e), publications related to your college major (f), other (g)?
23. Do you give much thought to national and international problems? (a) What in particular? (b)
24. Do you retain active contact with more than five of your MWC friends?
25. How many times have you attended Homecoming in the past 10 years?
26. I have additional comments about the quiz or about Alumnae Association projects and am enclosing them in an envelope with the answer card.

Realizing that in order to maintain any degree of excellence, Mary Washington must attract and hold a first-rate faculty, and should provide more scholarships for capable students as well as meet other needs, we continue to promote Quest XX, our insured endowment plan. All of us feel that the College will survive with tuition, state funds, and annual giving from alumnae, but we want to EXCEL!

Speaking of state funds—you "out-of-staters" will be gratified to know that Virginia's Governor Godwin is giving high priority to education in the Commonwealth. But even if Mary Washington gets her fair share, more will always be needed. Let's face it; quality is always more costly, and at this point we are extremely "quality-minded." Aren't you?

Along the lines of assuring the College's status as an outstanding institution and striving to see that she becomes comparable to the best liberal arts colleges for women, the Alumnae Board is deliberating with the University of Virginia Board of Visitors. We are discussing faculty salaries. Consideration will be given to the size of the college, with emphasis on maintaining a faculty-student ratio that will enable the student to be given individual attention, rather than becoming just another number rolled off the assembly line. Thoughts will also turn to other needs, such as more scholarships, facilities for adequate instruction and uncrowded, comfortable dormitory accommodations, etc. So you see everyone concerned is thinking about Mary Washington now and always. Surely, you, like we, take pride in knowing your College is a "going concern" and will want to lend your support in every possible way.

Thanks to all of you who are sending your annual contributions early. We deeply appreciate this evidence of confidence in what we are doing. I do not wish to pressure on the money angle, for we want only the cheerful giver. Many who are able will continue to contribute substantially and increase their gifts as they prosper. But I do feel that there are many of you who would gladly send two or three dollars but feel embarrassed that it can't be more or think that such a small contribution is hardly worth sending. This is absolutely untrue! Even 50¢, if this is all you can spare, says "I care about Mary Washington College." And if 75% of the over 8000 of you will take the time and trouble, it will prove what some of us boast—that Mary Washington alumnae are devoted to the College and are not complacent about its future. Won't you support our claim?

Finally, I want you to know that we're seeking more contacts with students. Contrary to the impression given by publicity of the fanatical and rebellious, there are many fine young people who persevere for knowledge and truth, who keep their heads and stick to well-founded principles. Our associations with Mary Washington girls are most rewarding, and we look forward to the day they are graduated to alumnae.

Do let us hear from you. As I said in my last missive, all you have to do is write to Mary Washington Alumnae Association, Box 1315-College Station, Fredericksburg, Virginia, and the staff there will either assist you or direct your letter through proper channels for reply.

Sincerely,
Adele Crowgey Giles

very nicely now. We also spend some time visiting our two daughters and their interesting families. This meant going to Cincinnati for Thanksgiving and to Roanoke for Christmas. We are greatly blessed.

'15 Ruth Carter Vellines (Mrs. R. E.)
Glenco Rd., Box 59B, Glen Allen 23060

Letters have come from Margaret Sayre Ransone, Alma Raiford, Josephine Jerrell White, Alice Warren Twiddy, Elsie Wood Rice and Lillian Craig.

Sorrow and sadness have been the lot of our class recently. In September Ettienne Moore lost her youngest daughter, Sally Overstreet, by death after a severe illness. Sally had a supervisory position in the Hanover County school system. Now Ettienne has the care of six-year-old Lisa. All send her sympathy. Elsie Wood Rice's granddaughters had hospital experiences and both lost babies. Alice Warren Twiddy is fine now after giving up some activities. Her husband has retired and he and Alice have enjoyed a recent visit to daughter Jean in Mississippi. Alma Raiford regretted that a business transaction prevented her from attending Homecoming. Alma visited Janet LaCrosse Hankin during the summer. Margaret Sayre Ransone finds time in her busy schedule to visit patients at Patrick Henry Hospital and do other charitable work. Her husband has retired.

I had a recent phone chat with Ettienne Broaddus Moore. On a trip she talked to Beulah Detwiler Anderson who is doing very well. Beulah's son has one more year in Naples, Italy, then he will return to Turkey, where he has been. He prefers it to all foreign countries. Ettienne and husband recently went to Washington, D.C. and brought back her 89 year-old aunt, Mrs. Mabel Haskins, for a weekend and birthday celebration. This aunt uses a walker as a result of a broken hip. She had the time of her life seeing relatives, changes in the countryside and new highways. A noble deed, Ettienne!

In August I spent three weeks touring the west with my nephew. Saw many new things which I hadn't seen when out there before, such as "Old Faithful" and "Badlands of South Dakota." Ended up in the hospital for three weeks in September, but am doing well now.

I note with regret and sympathy the passing of Sex Smith Flagg '18. Sex was one of our varsity basketball players.

Remember to write.

'18 Louise Milbourne Clarke (Mrs. C. H.)
9009 Cherokee Road, Richmond 23235

I am sorry I didn't get to Homecoming this year, but April 19th my husband and I left home on a tour of the United States and Canada. We got back July 24th after having been through 25 states and three provinces of Canada. It was a marvelous trip. Take my advice and see our wonderful country before going abroad.

I see Mary Ellen Burke Donald, Katherine

Corr Bland and Marian Greene Douglas often, and would love to see or hear from more of my classmates. Let me hear from you.

'24 Marion Weedon McDaniel (Mrs. C. B.)
1109 Charles St., Fredericksburg 22401

It is with deep sympathy we report the death of Arthur Lewis Taliaferro, Jr., son of Florence Fitts Taliaferro, in September at Fredericksburg.

Dorothy Chiles Hodnette '26 was living in Alabama where her husband died last year. This fall her home was destroyed by fire and a grandchild burned to death. She is now living in a hotel in Tusculusa until she builds another home.

The daughter of "John" McCorkle Ruff Strohecker was married last summer. She was a graduate of W. & M.

Doris Carneal Herndon '28 is taking it easy where she is living in Montross.

No other news from our Class of '24 and I saw none of your faces at Homecoming.

'28 No Agent

Mary Seward Young Tate (Mrs. Clifford W.) writes that she and her husband had a visit to New England in the Fall and enjoyed the colorful foliage. They were guests at Spotswood in August.

'29 Helen Van Denburg Hall (Mrs. B. A.)
Rt. 1, Box 43, Fredericksburg, 22401

While touring N. C., Phoebe Enders Willis ran into Elizabeth Hamlet Carter who is working as a hostess at "Reynolda," country house of one of the Reynold tobacco people. She is a niece of the former professor of mathematics at MWC whose portrait used to hang in Chandler Hall.

'33 No Agent

After graduation Margaret Rose Kalnen Damke (Mrs. K. A.) of Castle Hayne, N. C. taught school in Va. and N. C. Then she opened a private dance school and has taught tap, ballet, etc. for about 20 years. She is married to a retired Marine Colonel and they are building near Wilmington. She would like to hear from friends.

Reba Collier Thorpe is looking forward to Homecoming this year, as her daughter Lynda Lee will get her degree from MWC at that time. She has a daughter Faye who is a senior in high school.

Cornelia Wyatt Doggins (Mrs. E. H.), of Caret, writes "Earl and I celebrated our 31st wedding anniversary on June 19. Can it be possible? The years have been good to us in many ways." They have two children. Thomas Wilbur is head of the biology department of Harrisonburg HS and Eva Frances is affiliated with the Home Ins. Co. of Richmond.

Homecoming week-end for Reba Collier Thorpe '33 will be graduation week-end for her daughter Lynda Lee, a senior at MWC.

Among the Alumnae Daughters on campus is Pat Giles, junior, posing here with her mother, Adele Crowgey Giles '37 and her sister, Linda Giles Poole '61.

'38 Helen Pressley Voris (Mrs. J. Calvin)
5640 Old Lawyers Hill Road
Elkridge, Maryland 21227

Heard from Julia McDowell Hartley Martin sometime ago. She is twice widowed, has two daughters, the older one a graduate of U. of Ky., and Susannah, a teenager, in HS. Julia recently received her 25-year teaching pin. She lives at "Buckner," the old home place at Bumpass RFD. One of her close neighbors is Ruby Malloy Gibson, class of '39, also widowed.

Have called Evelyn Nixon Heltzel everytime I go through Charlottesville but so far have never found her at home. Had a long conversation with Margaret Ashby Williams '39 whose husband teaches at W&L. Hope to see her before my oldest finishes at Randolph-Macon Woman's College in 1968.

We go through Fredericksburg at least twice yearly to take and bring Jinny from Lynchburg. Would welcome news of anyone whose doorstep I might pass via 95 to Fburg, 3 to Culpeper and 29 to Lynchburg.

A passing reference to Miss Chauncey and the MWC Music Dept. turned up another alumna. Virginia Arrow Lord '45 and I have been in the Music Dept. of Anne Arundel County without knowing we had an Alma Mater in common. We are on a Music Curriculum Committee together.

Jessie Crockett Hopkins of Hampton, has two children. Esther is in Junior Hi and Charles attends the U. of Richmond.

Mary Elizabeth Basnight is a senior; her mother, Eugenia Moore Basnight '40 is President of Alumnae Council.

'42 Elizabeth Stoecker Gallant (Mrs. Paul B.)
138 Page Rd., Bedford, Mass. 01730

I have been so busy getting out questionnaires and compiling information for the class directory that I have not had time to gather any news for this issue. However, please let me beg you to return the questionnaires at the earliest moment and if you have not yet received yours don't despair. You will. Thanks so much to all of you who have been helpful with addresses. We do want a complete directory.

This may be my last NEWS communication with you before Homecoming. REMEMBER—this is our 25th reunion. We are hoping for a large and impressive turnout. Start saving now and do plan to come. Bring pictures of your families and let's have a gay old get-together. If you are not able to get back to MWC this June please write a long, newsy letter for us to read. We want to see or hear from everyone. Will be in touch with you through the mails.

'43 Frances Wills Stevens (Mrs. James S. Jr.)
432 Oakland Drive, Raleigh, N.C. 27609

News time for the class of '43 has rolled around again, and there are some interesting things to report.

First of all, thanks for your cooperation to those girls to whom I sent alumnae information cards—Dot Scales, Jean Boyle Owen, Jean Senecal Scott, Jo Holding Ricks. Also thanks for the changes of addresses—Betty Harte Lewis to L.A.; Bea Draper Atkinson to Severna Park, Md.; and "finding" Jane Beeton Bouteiller in McLean, Va. and Jean Senecal Scott in Wilmington, N. C.

The most exciting news was finally tracing Jean Senecal Scott, one of my senior suitemates, and receiving a wonderful and newsy letter from her! She and her attorney husband, David, were married in 1947, have been in Wilmington since 1948 and have a son and 4 daughters—David Jr. 19, Isobel 17, Mary 14, Jean 11, and Margaret 7. She enclosed a newspaper clipping headlined "Jean Scott Wins City Tennis Tournament." She plays quite a bit of tennis and won the city women's singles championship. Congratulations!

Also congratulations to Ellen Johnson (Johnny) Coleman, the only '43er at Homecoming. I am also happy to report that our contributions improved—however slightly. The statistics show

Graduates	Contributing	Amount	%
151 — '65-'66	33	$249	21.8%
151 — '64-'65	30	$246	19.9%

Three more people made contributions this year and thank you all so much. But we can do better than this! Let's ALL send a contribution—whatever size you choose. PLEASE do it now, if you have forgotten! There are many companies who will match your gift. Be sure to send in the name of your employer.

Please help locate Elizabeth Pitzer Rhodes, Evelyn Rowlett DuPriest and Ann Thorpe. The post office returned "unclaimed" these bulletins.

I am making plans now to attend Homecoming, 1967! If I am correct it will be June 3, 4. Our friends in the Class of '42 will be having their 25th reunion. Who will join me?

All of us are delighted with the news that MWC is finally going to get a new gym, etc. The bids were let for the million-dollar C. O'Conner Goolrick Physical Education Building in November.

'44 Nancy Duval Andrews (Mrs. Gordon H.)
2319 Chancellor Road, Bon Air 23235

You couldn't be so busy that you can't spare 15 minutes to drop me a line. I feel neglected. Please write.

Our deepest sympathy to Jeanne Steenburgh Kuernland, Chatham Township, N.J. on the death of her mother.

Edith Mays Thomas has moved to Beltsville, Md. She has two teen-age daughters and is teaching the 5th grade.

Virginia Shanklin Carter is in Alexandria while her husband is in Viet Nam. Her daughter is a freshman at MWC this year.

Gordon and I had lunch with Bo and Loraine Green Gillette. Fair Haven, N. J. this fall. Loraine's daughter is married and living in Mass. A grandchild is on the way, much to their delight. Loraine looks wonderful. Is this the first grandchild for our class?

Carolyn Turner Jamison, husband Chris and their three daughters live in Roanoke where he is art director in an advertising firm. Their oldest daughter is a sophomore at Longwood.

Candace Carter, Freshman, and her alumna mother, Virginia Shanklin Carter '44.

Hazel Jeffries is secretary to the Assistant Commissioner of Patents, U. S. Patent Office in Washington.

Harriet Walls Garey is still teaching school and loving it . . . in Denton, Maryland. She sent a nice check for our reunion fund.

Marny Watkins Gary, Richmond, passed along a wonderful letter from Mary McCrane Doherty who now lives in Melbourne, Australia, where her husband is regional sales director for the Far East for American Motors. They lived in Brazil from 1946 to 1955 and then in Portugal for four years before moving to Australia. She sent a picture of the three children for the scrapbook and a check for the reunion fund.

Dorothy Ewell Ewing promised to send pictures too BUT!!!

I wish you could read the letters from Frances Tracy on her work as a missionary in Brazil. She is living under primitive conditions (with cannibals) but seems to thrive on working with the natives in the depths of the jungles.

Martha Moon Brown Beck, Fredericksburg, should be beaming with pride. Mooney's daughter has been selected by the freshman class at MWC as its judicial representative to the Student Government Association.

Had a wonderful letter from Roberta Kingston Disney. She, Bud and the four children have built a house in Portage, Michigan, a suburb of Kalamazoo. Sheryl is at Michigan State.

Carolyn Watts Quigley, Orlando, Fla., was in town this fall for the operation of sister Frances Watts Barker '45. Fran is doing fine now.

Please drop me a card. This job is beginning to wear me down with no cooperation from you all. Plan to attend the reunion.

'45 Phyllis Pemberton Perkins (Mrs. A. W.)
Box 6, Guilford, Maine 04443

So good to hear from all. Wish your entire letters could be printed here. Martha Holloway Williams lives now in Fort Wayne, Indiana with patent-attorney-for-G.E. husband and three children in grades 2, 5 and 7. Kathryn Hale Hudson, chairman of the Red Cross Bloodmobile in Stuart, Virginia, also directs fashion shows for the Woman's Club, of which she is past-president, and beauty pageants for the Miss Virginia contests. Her pharmacist husband owns his own drug store and they have a boy 12 and a girl 7.

Janet Keefer Wurmstich and family "college-shopped" MWC last April for their oldest daughter. All were impressed by the campus changes. They visited Nancy Penn Honeycutt and children in Charlottesville while her husband was in Viet Nam.

The Perkins family journeyed to Nags Head, N. C. again last Summer. Talked to Ruth Shafer Ketcham '46 in Craddock, Va. and visited Henny Hoylman Parsons '44 in Lexington.

Frances Watts Barker underwent serious and successful brain surgery in October. Progress is excellent and rapid, and she expects to rejoin the 5th grade in January.

The Alumnae News grows more excellent with each succeeding issue. Let's raise the percentage of class of '45 donors to the Alumnae Fund!

46 Carolyn Rohr Huebner (Mrs. J. P.)
2100 S. Pierce St., Arlington 22202

Congratulations to all '46 graduates! In our 1966 Fall Alumnae News the Class of '46 was recorded as one of FIVE classes having the highest PARTICIPATION (49.3%) for the financial support of our Alumnae Association. Each '46 graduate who made a contribution to the 1965-66 Alumnae Fund was listed on the Honor Roll of Annual Givers. Please send in your contribution for this year so we might have an even better record for the 1966-67 Honor Roll.

Did you see the picture in the Alumnae News of Dr. Whidden and the '46 graduates who attended the Twentieth Reunion? If you did not receive the Alumnae News (Vol. 18, No. 3, Fall 1966) let the Alumnae Office hear about it; perhaps they do not have your address.

During November the Northern Virginia Chapter helped sponsor a fashion show at the Willard Hotel, Washington, D. C. We had a very pleasant afternoon and those present from the class of '46 were: Jeanne Veazey McDonald, Dorothy Samuels Smith, and yours truly.

Mary Davidson White, Oxon Hill, Md., who has two children, 13 and 16, teaches at Potomac Senior High School where she is chairman of the English Department.

Mildred Carpenter Jarecke, Vienna, has two children both of whom are in junior hi. Mildred's husband is working in the field of education and at this time he has a position with the U. S. Dept. of Ed.

Jeanne Veazey McDonald, Falls Church, has two daughters, 17 and 16. Jeanne works at the National Archives. Mr. McDonald is an attorney with the Department of Labor and is a lecturer at American U.

Alyce Ginter Cobb, McLean, has two boys, 12 and 8, and teaches in the Arlington School system. For several years Alyce, Ellen Bono and Mary Anna Gormley were Airline Hostesses for United Airlines.

Dorothy Samuels Smith, Arlington, has two children and at the present time is employed as a secretary for the Science Department at Wakefield Hi.

Frances Purdy Holloway is married to a four-star General in the Air Force, Gen. B. K.

Holloway, U. S. A. F. E., Commander-in-chief. Frances has been very active in volunteer work, serving on the Red Cross staff as an aide, chairman of the Home Service Committee, honorary chairman of Red Cross volunteers in USAFE, worked with Family Services and has begun to learn Braille music to assist in helping the blind children in which she has taken such a deep interest. She is the mother of three daughters.

Remember we want to keep our classmates posted about our activities, so please send any information you may have to the Alumnae Office or directly to me, your class agent.

"The Vineyard", Bruington 23023

A CHINA anniversary is about to be celebrated! Each of you is invited to be present! Whereas many of us will be celebrating a china wedding anniversary, I am referring to the 20th anniversary reunion of the class of 1947. In our senior year at MWC we talked endlessly about returning for reunions. So far we have not done too well, though some have returned each year. Mark your calendar now, and plan to be present for the entire week end, or at least part of it.

Remember the phrase in one of our class songs, "... and when we all have sons. We'll wish this were co-ed, so they could come to MWC"? Well MWC is not co-ed yet but homecoming now includes husbands. Last year a number of the husbands attended. I am sure next edition of the news will give details of special events of interest to the gents. We will all enjoy meeting the husbands whose names we have used on Christmas cards, read in news articles, etc. In preparation for Homecoming may I urge each of you to send names and addresses of lost classmates. If your address has changed, notify the Alumnae office or me. We hope to get out letters to each of you with special Homecoming plans for the CLASS of '47.

Aralea Cox Curtis lives in East Moriches, N. Y. and is math instructor at Suffolk County Community College, Sheldon, N. Y. Lucy Anderson Bannister's husband is patent chemist with DuPont Wilmington, Del. Lucy, we don't seem to have your husband's name in our files. Please send it.

Mary Louise Freeman lives at King George. Jean Bramham has moved from South Hill to Danville. Marion Dewing Fletcher is now in Niles, Mich. where she is director of Christian Education at Trinity Episcopal Church and Ass't. Chairman of the Dept. of Christian Ed. for the Western Michigan Diocese.

Nancy Hite Tucker's two sons and two daughters are now in school. She is the busy wife of a country doctor and takes an active part in community activities. They live at Huddleston. Alice Griesar Browning has a lovely new home in Stafford, every detail done to perfection. Mary Stuart Malone McNeill sends her address as American Consulate General, Cape Town, South Africa. She did not say what she is doing but it sounds interesting. Let us know more.

Mary "Pam" Richardson Markwood and Bill are still moving around. The last I heard they were moving to Palos Verdes, Calif. Margaret Bliven Scott and Bob are stationed at Newport, R.I. after several years in France. Eleanor Hunter Adams reported that Barbara Hansen Webb is now back in the states—New Haven, Conn.

In sorting through notes and letters I find a nice letter from Amy Miller Wilson. Amy lives in Nashville, N. C. where her husband owns a printing shop and weekly newspaper. Norma Olus Page retired from teaching in Halifax in 1960. She is enjoying traveling, painting, and working with 4-H. She won three prizes for color and black-and-white snapshots. Norma seems to find retirement delightful and busy.

Since our daughter entered Oak Hill Academy near Independence we have had the pleasure of renewing acquaintance with Stella Phipps Todd and Jim. They have three sons ages 16, 13 and 6. The Todds have made a home away from home for our Emmi. As we approach this 20th anniversary and many of us are watching our "little birds fly from the nest" it makes us feel the years. Stella has recently returned to teaching as a coordinator in the Federal Aid Reading Program.

Eloise Roberts Vass lives in Pulaski. They have a daughter 15 and sons 18 and 6. Donna Jean Williams is Mrs. Kirby and lives in Wilkesboro, N. C. A seven-year-old son is their only child. Celene Young Cornette lives in Hampton, where husband Eldon is an aeronautical engineer at Langley.

I saw Roberta Carter Doswell in Richmond last summer. She promised to help contact the Richmond area girls about Homecoming. Keep the news, names and addresses coming—either to me or to the Alumnae office. Write me of suggestions you may have for Homecoming and let's have a big group and a big time.

Along with responses to the fund drive we often get changes of names and addresses with no news. These are some of the most recent: Barbara Gustafson Baker, Islip, L.I., N. Y.; Nell B. Clarke, Beverley Payne Thompson, and Elsie Reed Kilduff Simmons, Fredericksburg; Edith Levi Scannell, Chelmsford, Mass.; Meda Leigh Overman Hill, Norfolk; Thelma Bates Sanford, Orange; Geraldine Harvey Richardson, Kents Store; Dibrell Fulcher Follin, Falls Church.

Letters sent to Laura Willis Reamy came back "unclaimed." Anyone know anything about Laura?

Harriet Sanford Bredin, who lives in Westfield, N.J., visited the MWC campus with her six children last September.

I have no news except of my own activities. My family and I enjoyed Thanksgiving with Peggy Elliot Sweeney and her family. Our children got along fine in getting acquainted. On the way we visited Jeanne Parrington Leslie and her girls for just a few minutes. Peggy is very busy with a bridge club and a drama club in Ilion, N.Y. Jeanne is busy with her four daughters. I am in Girl Scouting again as assistant leader of a Junior Troop.

The real pleasures of being a class agent are enjoyed when you receive unexpected phone calls or letters from old college friends. Within the past month I've experienced this. Mary Natalie Wilton called from N. Y. She was there for two nights waiting to escort a tour group on a three-week Mediterranean cruise on the Constitution; said she would try to look up Carmen Zeppenfeldt DeCatoni while in Barcelona, Spain. Since "Nat" usually is in Los Angeles, you can imagine my surprise to hear her voice.

Some of you will remember Imelda Riley who was at MWC for two years. I received a letter from her after about 20 years. She is Mrs. David Harris, living in Middlesboro, Kentucky. She received her BS in business administration this past June from Lincoln Memorial U. and is a social worker assigned to the work experience and training program. She and David have three teen-agers—two boys and a girl.

In the Oct. 9 Washington Post, which was sent to me, there was a very interesting article concerning Patti Head Ferguson's journey to Kenya—their 27th move in 16 years! And Patti will have her work cut out for her. Calling her "the future chatelaine of the U. S. Embassy," the article states that she has been informed by the U. S. Information Agency that Naiorobi is the Paris of Africa—important visitors arrive and depart at the rate of 150 a week! Good luck, Patti.

Betty Zipf is the editor of Biological Abstracts at U. of Pa. in Philadelphia. Over Christmas '65 she traveled to California for a meeting and then had a few days off on her own.

Delia Gene "D. G." Pate Wilson wrote that she is teaching at Mt. San Antonio College and Bruce is teaching at Calif. Poly. They have bought a home in Upland, "35 miles E. of the worst of L. A. smog." Their family consists of four children and two Siamese cats.

When last heard from Garland Estes McCarthy was in Benghazi, Libya. Her husband is a materials analyst. They have a boy, 5, and two girls, 7 and 3.

Ruth Proffen, in Ellicott City, Md., was doing pre-professional library work, but was planning to go for her master's in L. S. in 1965. She has Panama, Honduras, etc.

I heard from Mary-Jane Redman Whittier, up in cold Saco, Maine, who classifies herself as a "Home Executive." She has three girls and a boy. Husband, Robert, is a self-employed handbag manufacturer.

Nan Riley Pointer teaches government and U.S. History at Gloucester H.S. Joe is a farmer and they have two sons, 12 and 10. Also the wife of a farmer is Muriel Rustad Hunt. She and Harold live on Hill Pleasant Farm, Williamsburg. They have a son, 15, and a daughter, 13. Muriel is choir director for their church.

Jackie Newell Recker keeps busy in Tenafly, N.J. taking adult courses in sculpture and interior decorating. She and Leonard have a son, 10 and daughter, 4; also she is keeping her golf scores low at the local country club.

Still in Milano, Italy, Barbara Huber Bohmann writes that they had a month's home leave in the summer of '65 which they spent in a rented house in Point Pleasant, N.J. They are doing week-end traveling in Italy and seem to enjoy it. They have two daughters. Barb says that Janet Hoos Sonntag and her husband adopted a baby girl in April '65.

Charlotte Leonard Wilder now has her MA from the U. of Md. and is looking forward to a winter without graduate school. Her job at Springbrook HS has become more involved as she now has the position of getting her Seniors into college. She and the family traveled to Lancaster Co., Pa. this summer and enjoyed the ride on the Strasburg Line.

Heard from Barbara Booker Palmer. They are in Norfolk and Al teaches at Old Dominion College. Bobbie started on her MA in ed. psychology, but gave it up when they adopted Susan who is now about 4. They also have a son, 10, and another son born in the Fall of '65.

Rowena Simpson Renn is director of music at Woodlawn Methodist Church in Augusta, Ga. and also gives private voice and piano lessons. Edwin is V.P. of the First Nat'l. Bank and Trust Co. They have two girls and a boy.

Had lunch with Miriam "Mim" Sollows Wieland in Nov. while Earl was on a month's business trip to India and Pakistan. He is a Technical Service Rep. for Esso International. Beverly Youngs Robinson is in Hampton, Va. Husband, John, is a designer for the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co. They have three boys and two girls.

Was pleased to hear from Martha Carr Huddleston that after a long siege in the hospital her husband had a successful heart operation late in Dec. '65. She is kept busy teaching second grade and taking care of her three boys.

Mary Lyne Kucera Morrissey represented MWC at the inauguration of Dr. Fred Bently at Mars College, Mars Hill, N. C. and had a wonderful time. While there she saw Allene Marie Tyler '58, who is a member of the faculty there. As the wife of a now retired army officer, Mary says she has "traveled the world from San Francisco to France to Alaska," but they have now settled in Arden, N. C. She has four sons.

I have a few lost members which I would like to call to your attention—Sarah "Rite" Willock Black, Nancy Fox Sease, Marjorie Diener Knapp, and Nancy Lee Redman. If you know their present address, please contact me or the Alumnae Office. And please notify us of your news and address changes. Don't forget—you write the column, I just organize the material.

Margaret Green had a lovely trip in Europe this past summer. She traveled in Italy, England, France, Switzerland and Germany. Margaret lives in Selma, Alabama, where she is a social worker at the Methodist Children's Home.

Virginia Crim Draper, after living in many ports, has settled down to country life in Boykins.

Her husband has an electrical supply company and she teaches school. They have three children.

Our very best wishes to Carolyn Arrington who became Mrs. Harry Smith this summer in Charlottesville. They are living in Grundy, Box 749.

Elizabeth Bennington Smith, husband David and two boys are now in Boone, N. C. where David is working on his master's at Appalachian State Teachers College and Elizabeth is teaching.

Peggy Burton James is teaching at the Wytheville Elementary School this winter. Her husband is with Poage Insurance Agency and they and their 4 children live in Wytheville.

My husband and I had a delightful cruise and week in Bermuda this summer.

Do you realize, girls, June 1967 marks the 15th year following our graduation? Time for another Reunion! You will receive a letter soon. Please RESPOND. Let us know about you, your children, trips you've made, places you've lived; best of all let us hear that you will be at MWC this spring for our 15th REUNION.

Nancy Stone

Congratulations to Doris "Pinky" Steele who became Mrs. Paul Lequin in August. We are proud of Doris for her contribution to MWC as a member of the Board of Directors.

Sue Walton Harris is doing graduate work at Richmond Professional Institute and at the same time is renewing her teaching certificate.

In a local department store saw Mary Lou Finney Boyd who happens to be living quite near me. Mary Lou has two children.

Anne Beck MacFarlane, husband and four children have returned to Roanoke to live.

Evelyn DeMott Breeden and husband are now living in New Jersey. Raymond's insurance company sent him to New York where they are enjoying the advantages of a big city.

Anne Smith Jenkins is now living in Lakeland, Florida where Crawford is in the citrus feed business. They adopted a baby girl last winter who was one year old in September. Anne wrote that Margaret "Sis" Atkinson Olsen is living in Atlanta.

June Christian Tuttle was named official hostess of the 18th Annual Tobacco Festival. She and John moved into the John Marshall Hotel for festival week, greeted dignitaries visiting the city and shepherded the 29 princesses on their rounds of social events.

Carole Risdon Benchoff and Jack returned from Nigeria in October and are living in Florham Park, New Jersey. Jack is working in the home office of Louis Berger Associates in East Orange, N. J.

Garnette Bell Crawford wrote in August that she was expecting her second child in November. Her daughter is 9. Norm is serving for one year as Acting Director of Examinations for the College Entrance Examination Board in New York. Garnette was visiting her parents in Newport, R. I. at the time, and was hoping to get together with Carol Ann Smith Boyes and Jane Lloyd who were also visiting in Newport. Garnette sees Carolyn Keck Redic and Mary Landes Macleary ('52) often. Hannah Lou Southwell McGowan and Charlie moved into their lovely new home in September.

LOST: Millicent Brown and Genevieve Suits Lasker. News is getting scarce, so if you haven't reported in lately, please do so. Some of you haven't written for the last 10 years, and are guilty of withholding information!

We will be moving to New Jersey sometime around the first of the year. Mike has a new position as materials manager with the Driver-Harris Company in Harrison, New Jersey. The boys and I will join him as soon as we can find a house and a buyer in the appropriate places.

GOOD NEWS!!! We've found Eileen Cella Manze in Trenton, N. J., Mary Lewis Peck in Alexandria, Dorothy Wolfe York at Hollins College, and Edith Martin Palmer, recently returned from Ecuador, in Sterling Park. Other gals who have recently moved include: Lucille "Cele" Valentine Valentine, to Virginia Beach, Martha Lyle Pitman to a new address in Murray, Ky., Dorothy Booth Sanders from Corbin, Ky., to Lexington, Ky., Virginia Thackston Richardson from Dearborn to Dearborn Heights, Mich., Alice Campbell Shiflett from Staunton to Delaware, Ohio and Audrey Merritt Buchholtz from Flourtown, Pa., to Blue Bell, Pa.

Ah, but we've lost Mary Handges, Margaret Davis, Joan Choyke, Bernard Burchell, Patricia Sullivan Farrell, Margaret Fair Ingersol and Barbara Trites Peterson.

Linda Johnson and I had a fine chat in November. She has bought a 46 foot sailing yacht and is off on a diving expedition in southern waters. Lin had a visit from Patricia Lipscomb Paggi who had bought a home in Edinborough, Scotland. Pat and her husband visited on the west coast and N. Y. this past summer.

Yours truly ran another Nursery School fair in November, and is expecting number three in April!

Joan Tengzelius Strong, John and 4 children are in East Hampton, N. Y. She is AAUW treasurer there. In February, '66, they went on a Caribbean cruise.

Evelyn Page Richardson Coulthard, Bob and 2 children are in Va. Beach. He is assistant principal of the junior high school there. Page writes: "taught math and science in Roanoke 1 year—getting much sand in shoes—taking extension classes in library science."

Hermine Gross Fox, Kerry and daughter are in San Diego. He is a Deputy City Attorney with the office of City Attorney Civil Division at San Diego.

As for me, I'm teaching senior English and journalism in Fairfax County. In my spare time, I sing with the Arlington Sweet Adelines. Well, that's about it. Thanks again to all of you for all this info. By the next issue, you will probably have two new class agents. Hermie and I both have enjoyed this job, and appreciate your letters and cards and pix. Thanks again for everything!! and bye for now—Ozzi.

Kathryn Broadwell Fazekas has continued her work in dietetics at a hospital in Monterey, Calif. Al, a Marine Major, is due to complete his studies at the Navy's post-graduate college there in June. The Fazekas's sons are 7 and 5 1/2.

In the fall we were happy to have Libby Field Erwin her husband and dear little boy as our week end guests. At a dance Bren and I attended with Libby and Hugh we met some good friends of Suzanne Hoenstine Morrow and Charlie. The Morrows have three boys, 7, 4 and 1 1/2, and live in Stafford-Wayne, Pa., a suburb of Philadelphia. Living nearby are Priscilla and William Baysinger. She was "Prissy" Ripple. Hoey's roommate, who transferred to Ohio Wesleyan after her Freshman year.

Dorothy Rice, who received a BS in physical therapy from Duke in conjunction with MWC, is married to Tommy Clark and lives in Canton, N. C.

Anne Lenzi Peters returned to Ohio in Dec. from Calif. Her husband has begun a dermatology residency at Cincinnati Gen. Hospital. Anne and Gerald have two sons and a daughter.

Jacqueline McClung Wight and Peter seem to have found their dream house. In August I had a brief but pleasant visit with Jackie at their lovely country home in Cockeysville, Md. The fieldstone house is set among giant oak trees and overlooks a beautiful meadow. The three small, well-mannered Wights, 7 1/2, 6 and 3 1/2, were buzzing about. Jackie makes sure they're busy with riding, swimming and dancing lessons. With many projects going on Jackie still finds time to sew, her favorite item being at-home outfits. She smiled facetiously and said "jump-suits."

Marlene Bost Braun is living in North Kingston, R. I. where her husband, who is a Lt. Commander in the Navy, is attached to a staff at near-by Quonset Point. She says, "I stay quite busy with Naval Officers Wives' activities, church work, choir, substitute organ playing, and now PTA, since our daughter is in 1st grade."

In October I attended an interesting series of lectures sponsored by the Women's Association of Cleveland College (Western Reserve University). The subject was "New Knowledge—the Cutting Edge," and lecturers were faculty members from leading women's colleges. Perhaps you would like to initiate or participate in a similar program in your town or city.

Our number is up for the 10th REUNION! Let's have a big turn-out—and break a record for best attendance (and most fun!) Phone your friends, write to old roommates you've been meaning to write to for years and make definite plans to meet them at Homecoming this spring. I'll send details soon.

A "believe it or not" for Richmond — Snowing already in Nov.! And some just as spiffy news . . .

Marianne "Fiddle" Graves Myers is expecting her third child. Martha Blake Cooper is back in Richmond while her husband is stationed in Viet Nam. Karen Broemmer spends her spare time in traveling. Heard that Barbara Cuneo Olsen now has two children. Nancy Lanford Carr has moved to Omaha where her husband attends the University. Jean Paul Cherubini and family are at Camp LeJeune. Edith Sheppard Ott and family are back in Richmond. Her husband is the Asst. D. A. Catherine "Kitten" Swaffin Howard stays, oh, so busy, as well as her husband who travels a lot in his business now.

Emily Babb Carpenter and family visited in the Spring and brought good news of a new addition on the way. Dorothea "Dodie" Reeder and Dale planned a big-to-do in October for the Army-Pittsburgh game. Hope it was a swinging success! Ann Brooks Papadatos sent a great letter about her tour of Greece and surrounding countries this summer. She said Judy Gourley Kamishlian and Jack are building a new home. Jane Nessenhaler, now Mrs. John Mann, was appointed by Gov. M. E. Godwin to the Advisory Comm. of the State Board of Medical Exam., a very responsible position. Marcia Spense Harrison and Bill and Sandy are in D. C. Bill is in the Main Naval Dispensary. She sent the news that Marcia Keyes Ivy has two girls and a boy and is expecting her 4th in the spring.

Finally located Audrey Dubetsky Doyle in Coronado, Calif. She's been running back and forth across the U. S. trying to keep up with Tom, who is trying to keep up with his duties as Ship Meteorologist on the Bon Homme Richard. He'll soon be leaving for a tour in Viet Nam again, which leaves two little girls to keep mother company.

Gloria Winslow Borden's third child was a boy. Jane Tucker Broadbook's letter floated in to tell the news that she is expecting her first bundle of joy in Nov. Needless to say, they are quite happy. John hopes to graduate in June; he has been winning all sorts of awards in design.

Molly Bradshaw Alderson is awaiting her second child in Jan. Mary Jamison Gwinn has moved to Covington, Va. where her husband is now employed with the Jamison Oil Co. They have a large new home. Jean Jones McNabb has moved to Jacksonville, Fla. Ruth Craft Matuzeski is now living in Del. and Ann Watkins Steves and family are in Texas.

All little tidbits of news are welcome. Keep it coming.

Hi gals! This is the deadline I usually miss, but I have a little news so I'm making a special effort to get it out this time! Got a letter from Sylvia McJilton Woodcock who had the honor of being the official delegate from MWC at the inauguration of Dr. W. H. Masteson, the new president of the U. of Chattanooga, on Nov. 4th. She wore the full "bat suit" — cap, gown, and hood, and attended a formal dinner, reception, etc. We're proud of our representative! She talked to Nancy Driskill Warren who is doing fine and keeping busy with her three daughters. Our thanks to Stuart Woodcock who took such good photos of our reunion!

Clara Sue Durden Ashley and Clarence spent about a month at Cape Kennedy this fall and are now back in Beltsville, Md. awaiting their second baby in February.

I got a very nice newsy letter from one of the members of the nursing group who left MWC after two years and went to U. Va. — Carolyn King Mooreside. She is quite partial to MWC and wanted to pass on some tidbits about other nurses. Thank you so much, Carolyn—I wish more people would do this! She "retired" as head nurse of the psychiatric unit at U. Va. in June '66, after working 4 1/2 years while Doug finished Med School. He is now in his internship at the U. of N. C. in Chapel Hill and they plan to remain there for the next 4-5 years during his residency in Pathology (address: 626-C Hibbard St., Odom Village, Chapel Hill, N. C. 27514). Janice Burleson Fleenor's husband Larry also graduated from U. Va. Med School in June and they have moved to Salt Lake City, Utah. Carolyn talked with Ginger Wheeler Black who has been a real traveler with her husband Murray, making about 6 moves in two years with the Navy. His tour finished this past summer and they are now living in State College, Pa. while he works on a graduate engineering degree. Their darling daughter Lisa was two in Oct. '66. Nancy Hottle Jones had been working with the Charlottesville Public Health Dept since graduation until June '65 when husband Jim finished Law School. The last contact Carolyn had with Nancy, she was at Paris Island. Their baby girl Beth was 1 year this past Oct. Karen Larsen Wemple is in North Carolina also: her doctor husband Jan was to go into practice in High Point the first of the year ('67). They have two girls, the second about 18 months. Betty Tompkins Futral and Ashley returned to Charlottesville after a tour of duty in Germany, and this past summer moved to Winchester, Va. with their young son. Linda Scott Masri and Asad are making their home in Petersburg, Va. where Asad has gone into private psychiatry practice. They have a girl, Nadia, and a boy, Scott.

Barbie Upson Gravely and Martin had their first child, Martha Ellen ("Meg") on October

18. They moved into their beautiful new house in Wilmington, Del. about two weeks later and she is as contented as you please! One correction from my column in the last issue — I neglected to put my sister's married name and so the wrong name was filled in, her name is Barbara "Linkey" Booth Wilhelm. Hope I don't make any more mistakes like that! Keep the news coming — have a good year.

'63 Barbara "B" Prall Granger (Mrs. R.P.)
8 Richbourg Ct., Greenville, S.C. 29607

"Ding" Moyer Schwarz is living and teaching in Middleburg. Gene left for Saigon in October. Karen Gustafson Bromberg became a full-time graduate student at Arena Stage in D. C., connected with a G. W. Univ. dramatics program. She and Conrad are living in D.C. Anne Reardon Crowley took a new job last Jan. as an Employee Relations and Incentive Awards Specialist with the Harry Diamond Lab., Dept. of the Army in D. C.

Marilyn Twiss Liebrock and George are living in Wheaton, Ill. and both are working in Chicago. Marilyn says she believes Pam Pond is still teaching in Richmond and that Sivey Stark Hudson and Bob had a baby girl around last Christmas. The Hudsons are still in Dahlgren.

Bob and I visited with Fran Ryan Myers, Charley and Ann over Labor Day. We also saw Linda Scheerer Doyle and family and Maureen "Mo" Callahan Gallagher. Denny and little Dennis. Rosie Borke ('61) came for a short visit too. Rosie is still working at NIH and living in Annandale with Karen Johnston ('59). Karen is a school music supervisor for the county.

Frances Goins Wilhoit received her Masters in Library Science from the U. of N. C. in June and is now working in the Wilson Library there as acting social science reference librarian. Her husband has a fellowship in the school of journalism there.

Karen Vandevanter Chapman and Curt attended the wedding of Ginger Logie Carr and Calvin in N. J. in July. The Carrs flew to Europe on their honeymoon. Also on the Chapman visiting list last summer were Carol Van Ness Clapp and Dick who are in Ashland, Mass.

Judging from a picture Barbara "Linkey" Booth Wilhelm sent, her daughter Tracy is a real doll — now ten months old. Frank is due home early in the new year.

Amanda Wichard Cebrowski traveled to Hawaii in Oct. to spend a week with her husband who is serving in Viet Nam.

Had a nice letter from my Freshman roommate Peggy Register Dongieux in November. She and Marion and their two children are back in Huntsville, Ala. Peggy says there is a possibility they will wind up in D. C. in the spring.

Betty Caudle Marshall writes that Betty Jo Cowles Yates and Danny left Cherry Point last August when Danny got out of the Marines. They are in Blacksburg, Va. where Danny has a teaching assistantship at VPI. Betty Jo is doing some substitute teaching. Betty says she and Tom have been in Wilson, N. C. for two years. Tom is teaching at Atlantic Christian College and Betty stays busy taking care of Cathy, 2, and Michael, 9 months. They are expecting their third child in March.

Bob has changed jobs and is now an accountant with Phillips Fibers, so the Grangers have their home base in Greenville, S. C. Come by and see us if you are ever in the area.

Since the fall issue, I have received only one letter. Maureen O'Brien Cole has been doing research for the Kenmore Association on the origin of the plaster-work ceiling. She has completed her course work for her MA in the Winterehur Museum Program in Early American Culture and she plans to finish her thesis this year. Her husband is working on his PhD in Early American Culture at George Washington U. in a program given in conjunction with the Smithsonian Institution. When Maureen finishes her work at Kenmore she will assist Dr. Walker at GWU in writing a book on the history of American reform and protest.

Bob and I have moved again! This time it is to California where he is working on his PhD at Stanford U. I am working as a mathematician for N.A.S.A. at the Ames Research Center, Moffet Field. We are certainly enjoying our travels around the country.

Please write and let me know what you and other classmates are doing.

Alice Radler writes that she is enjoying her observation of the educable retarded in Charlottesville. She is working toward a master's in special education.

Kathy Reuter had a few easy weeks after she finished hostess training for TWA. She completed her course in the middle of the airline strike.

I saw Carolyn Davis and Raquel Weyse in Charlottesville one week end. They and several roommates have a house in Washington and they are enjoying life in the big city.

Carol Williams and Jeanne Quigley visited Stratford-on-Avon in October and also expected to see a bit of literary London. Jeanne says "We're feeling so English eating cheese and bacon in an English tavern—its marvelous."

Anne Watson Thomas has changed her name to Knetting and now lives at 403 Sherman Ave., Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas.

Katie Huntington Ginman finished a summer secretarial course at Radcliff and is now working at a social work agency in Boston.

Catherine Cantwell is studying at the N. Y. Medical College graduate school of nursing in the generic program. She says that "nursing is quite a change from MWC, but I must say I miss the third floor of Science and the chem majors of '66."

I am teaching educable retarded children in the primary department of Rosemont elementary school. I am also studying German and helping with a girl scout troop.

ALUMNAE HONORED

Five Mary Washington Alumnae have been chosen for inclusion in the 1966 edition of Outstanding Young Women of America. They are Dr. Eloise (Bitsy) Clark '51 of New York City, Rose Bennett Gilbert '60 (Mrs. Robert M.) of Belle Mead, N.J.; Natalie Robins Lehmann-Haupt '60 (Mrs. Christopher) of New York City, Elizabeth Baylor Neatrour '54 (Mrs. Chas. W.) of Bloomington, Ind.; and Peggy Kelley Reinburg '58 (Mrs. James M.) of Fairfax.

Dr. Eloise Clark obtained her Ph.D. in zoology from the University of North Carolina in 1958. She is now assistant professor of zoology at Columbia University. Second vice president of the Alumnae Association Rose Bennett Gilbert is also homecoming chairman and a member of the Executive Committee and the Board of Directors. She is now on the staff of an interior decorating magazine, 1,000 Decorating Ideas, and has been assistant editor of Museum News. Natalie Robins Lehmann-Haupt is the author of two volumes of original poetry, Wild Lace, published in 1960, and My Father Spoke of His Riches, published in 1965.

With modern foreign languages as her field of concentration, Elizabeth Baylor Neatrour studied at the Sorbonne in Paris for a year following her graduation. She then taught at Madison College in Harrisonburg and is now working on a Ph.D. in Russian at the University of Indiana. A former president of the Alumnae Association and a member of the Board of Directors, Peggy Kelley Reinburg is an instructor of organ at MWC and is organist for the Union Methodist Church in Washington, D.C. She is also organist for the Abendmusik Concert Series presented at that Church. She obtained her master's in music from Northwestern University during the summer of 1966.

Outstanding Young Women of America is an annual biographical compilation of 6,000 young women between the ages of 21 and 35 who have distinguished themselves in civic and professional activities. Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson serves as Honorary Chairman of the Board of Advisory Editors.
